

Results of the Competition for the Best Student Paper in Theoretical Economics 2019

Information for jury members and participants

The jury assessed the competing papers at its meeting on June 26th, 2019. The jury noted the overall high quality of submitted papers and decided to award the winning papers as follows:

1st place, i.e., 10 000 Kč, is awarded to:

M. Nevrla: Tail Risks, Asset Prices, and Investment Horizons.

2nd place, i.e., professional literature up to 3 000 Kč is awarded to:

T. Rusý: Maximising Loan Value under Decision Dependent Randomness.

3rd place, i.e., professional literature up to 1 000 Kč is awarded to:

A. Matveenko, V. Novák: Status Quo and Beliefs Polarization of Inattentive Agents.

Next, due to an unusually large number of high quality papers, the jury awards Certificate of merit for a significant contribution to theoretical economics to I. Bakota: Capital Income Taxation with Portfolio Choice, O. Bychkova: Advising in a Staged Investment Setting, and J. Šedek: Allocation in Congested Markets with Information Acquisition and Honorary mention for a promising work of a starting researcher to J. Lžičař: Solving Methods for Bilevel Optimization Problems.

All participants are cordially invited to attend the award ceremony at the Autumn Econometrics Day 2019 that will include also a presentation of the winning paper. The date will be announced later. The participants on 2nd and 3rd place can choose the book awards by themselves and their expenses will be reimbursed after delivering the receipt to the Department of Econometrics, ÚTIA AV ČR, any time until November 30th, 2020.

Upon request, the reviews can be provided by email.

We wish all participants a lot of success in their future work and congratulate the winners.

Doc. RNDr. Z. Hlávka, Ph.D.
(jury chairman)

Prague, June 26th, 2019